Colmcille 1500

The year-long commemoration marking the 1500th anniversary of the birth of Colmcille is well under way with over 70 events planned up until December 2021. A new Colmcille 1500 website has been set up to provide a central hub for people in the North West to collectively promote events for the historic anniversary, whilst also providing a platform to engage with national and international audiences.

Planned events include concerts, exhibitions, films, plays, conferences, lectures and other performances – mostly virtual at this stage until physical events can resume. A series of events are planned to celebrate the Saint's Feast Day on 9th June 2021, with celebrations continuing throughout the year, culminating in events to mark Colmcille's birthday on 7th December 2021.

ARCHIVES

Donegal County Archives and other local authority Archives Services are in partnership with Beyond 2022, an international project based in Trinity College with collaborators such as the National Archives of Ireland and the UK. The project seeks to re-create a 'Virtual Records Treasury' with virtual reconstruction of the Public Record Office of Ireland (The Four Courts) and its archival collections, which were destroyed in the Civil War in 1922. The Taoiseach recently described Beyond 2022 as a "landmark initiative" in terms of innovation and international collaboration.

The surviving archives of Donegal Grand Jury, dating back to 1753, have been digitised and will form part of the recreated archival 'Treasury.' The project includes a conference commemorating the centenary of the May 1921 Custom House fire and a publication. For more on this amazing project, see here.

The Archives Service continues to provide outreach events online. For the festival of Bealtaine a presentation and demonstration of digitised archives has been uploaded onto Donegal County Council's YouTube Channel here.

The Archives Service is gradually putting more of its resources online and free to view. Recently uploaded are three exhibitions celebrating Donegal's history and culture, and showcasing its archives: The Past in the Present, A Trek through Time and Celebrating 100 Years of Modern Local Government. MUSEUM

Exhibition 'From Conflict to Division, Donegal 1919-1925'

Donegal County Museum has developed a new exhibition 'From Conflict To Division, Donegal 1919-1925'. This exhibition examines the events of the War of Independence, the Civil War and Partition in Donegal. These events transformed the island of Ireland and have had a lasting legacy on Irish politics and society, right up to the present day. The exhibition will continue until the end of August 2021 and the Museum would welcome the loan of further artefacts and archives to add to the story of this period. This exhibition forms part of the Echoes of the Decade Project funded through the European Union's PEACE IV Programme, which is managed by the Special EU Programmes Body (SEUPB).

UnCover & ReDiscover Your Locality booklet

In spring the Donegal Volunteer Centre in partnership with Donegal County Museum invited people to 'UnCover & ReDiscover Your Locality'. Through this community project volunteers were encouraged to find out about their local heritage and to share with the Museum what they had uncovered or even rediscovered. The submissions received are a miscellany of eclectic and wonderful stories, poems and photographs. They have been gathered together in an attractive booklet which is available online and in hard copy, free of charge.
